Titusville, September 22, 1866

Titusville Morning Herald.

The Recent Floods in the Southwest—Loss of over Five Millions of Dollars.

That portion of the South lying along the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers and their tributaries, after passing through four years of desolating war and a year of wasting drought, is now overwhelmed by a flood of unprecedented extent and destructiveness.

The extent of the damage cannot now be estimated, although, from the intelligence which has already been received, it cannot be less than from five to ten millions of dollars, and it is apprehended that the loss of life, owing to the suddenness of the rise on the Tennessee, has been fearful indeed A dispatch from Bridgeport yesterday states that twenty five or thirty corpses had been seen floating past that place on Tuesday last Wrecks of houses, barns, mills and bridges have been constantly floating down the swollen tide past Bridgeport for a number of days

The flood burst upon the people in many places while they were sleeping, and they were fortunate if able to escape with their lives, leaving all their worldly goods to be swept away — At Chattanooga, while the city was asleep, the flood poured into the town, and rose to five feet in the principal streets before the people were aware of their danger, and for nearly a week they were effectually cut off from all communication from the outer world The water rose rapidly until it reached a depth of from twelve to twenty feet

The only intelligence which has yet reached us from Chattanooga was contained in a meagre dispatch brought yesterday in a skiff to Bridgeport by two daring young men, thence telegraphed to Colonel Innes, Superintendent of the Chattanooga Railroad The dispatch represents the city to be in an awful condition The water ten and twelve feet deep in the railroad depots and warehouses, cars floating about, and many houses toppling over, and others floating off, or already gone down the mad current Nothing has been learned as to the loss of life in this city, but the Mayor with a posse, was hard at work fishing out food from the loaded freight cars The people are, no doubt in a state of the most terrible destitution and suffering

All the railroads leading into Chattanooga are submerged in ten or twelve feet of water — The great bridge at London, on the Knoxville and Chattanooga Railroad, and the costly structure at Bridgeport, on the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad are swept away Fifteen miles of the Western and Atlantic road below Chattanooga are under water, and six Chickamauga bridges are gone The bridge at Strawberry Plains, on the East Tennessee road, has been swept away It is impossible to tell at this writing the damage done to the lines of railway in the section indicated Enough is known to assure us that it will require three or four months of energetic management to put them in condition again It will require years to enable the people whose fences, stock, houses, barns mills and product have been swept away, to recover from this last terrible blow of ill fortune They deserve, and it is hoped, will receive prompt aid, in this day of their calamity, from their more fortunate fellow citizens

The damage done on the Cumberland has not been as great as on the Tennessee The rise was more gradual Nashville has been transformed for the time into a Venice All the lower parts of the city and of Edgefield are submerged — From twelve to fifteen hundred of the inhabitants have been driven from their homes Only the roofs of many of the houses in the north part of the city are visible The Nashville and Decatur and Edgefield and Kentucky Railroads have not suffered The Louisville and Nashville road lost a bridge at Bacon creek, but travel over that road has not been interrupted

Dr. Livingstone Probably Not Dead.

The Boston Transcript publishes the following letter from Mr W Winwood Reade, a distinguished African traveler, and author of the large volume on 'Savage Africa'

SIR The report of Dr Livingstone's death appears to be so generally credited here, that it is worth while pointing out the dubious nature of the rumor—for it is nothing more

The news comes from the Cape, and states that he has been killed by the Caffres, but he does not happen to be anywhere near the Caffres — When last heard of he was on the shore of Lake Nyassa If he is following out the programme with which he started viz, that of ascertaining the drainage of Lake Tanganyika, he should now be traveling in a direction N W of Lake Nyassa In any case reliable news concerning him should reach England by the East coast, not by the Cape, through the British Consul at Zanzibar, or the Portuguese authorities in the Mozambique

But we cannot receive reliable news about him at all, except from his own letters I understand that he has no white men with him, he is in the very heart of Africa, we can hear of him only through the medium of the native Africans or of half caste Portuguese, who are always ready to invent a catastrophe in order to make themselves the centre of curiosity for a little while. Dr Livingstone's death was announced in precisely the same manner the last time he was traveling in Africa

Of course I do not presume to assert positively that he is not dead, he is surrounded by very great dangers which he is increasing tenfold by a crusade against slave caravans But I do assert that very little attention should be paid to this rumor until it is confirmed by H B M Consul at Zanzibar W WINWOOD READE

Interview with General Schofield.

From the Richmond Times March 16

Some dozen or more of the country members of the Legislature, on yesterday morning, in company with the Auditor and Second Auditor and State Treasurer, unofficially and informally, waited upon General Schofield to learn his views and plans in regard to the present State Government Whilst they were civilly received and treated, it does not appear that they got much information by the visit to headquarters They wanted particularly to know whether the spring, State and municipal elections were to be held and were informed that that subject was under advisement They somehow received the impression that General Schofield was opposed to holding elections for either State or municipal officers thinking it more expedient that the incumbents should, in all cases, retain their places for the present, and that the Legislature had better not adjourn, but take a recess till May But though this impression seemed to be general among the visitors none of them were prepared to state positively that General Schofield had announced any such opinions

Whatever it may have been in other respects as an inquiry after knowledge the visit was a decided failure

We may here mention that there are delegations in the city, one from Portsmouth and the other from Fredericksburg, to learn from General Schofield whether the municipal elections in their respective towns shall take place at the time appointed by law, and, if they are to be held, whether under their charters or the military bill

A Remarkable Statement.

There is perhaps no person in this country who will be more surprised by the following statement than will John Morrissey, M C

From the Irish Times March 6

Last night, at the Limerick Junction, Assistant Inspector General Browning, of the constabulary, arrested, on the arrival of the mail train from Cork, John Morrissey, the celebrated prize fighter and member of the United States Congress, on the charge of Fenianism, just as he had alighted from a first class carriage He had arrived at Cork by the Cunard steamer, Australasian, and was proceeding to Tipperary town He is known as the man who had the first great fight in Canada, near the American frontier, about eight years ago, with John C Heenan, whom Morrissey defeated after a desperate fight of twenty three rounds, which occupied nearly three hours He has since become a gambling proprietor and legislator, and joined the Fenian Brotherhood at its commencement, having subscribed largely to its funds. Morrissey, when arrested, fainted, and had to be taken to the gentlemen's waiting room, where restoratives had to be applied, after which he was taken to Dublin In consequence of his arrest a large force of infantry was sent down early this morning to the junction, where the men are encamped for the protection of that place

Social Exclusiveness in the South.

From Flake's Galveston Bulletin

Disguise the facts as we may, it is true that in many circles neither wealth, manhood, courage, eminent piety, erudition, high toned morality, brilliant accomplishments, nor personal beauty can open the charmed doors of society, provided there is coupled with these qualities a persistent and ever steadfast loyalty to the Federal Government It is true that genuine man and womanhood smiles the smile of contempt on those who exclude and shut the door against that which is good Men and women feel the consciousness of superior strength and of greater dignity, but still the fact remains and it is wrong * * * How can we ask political equality with those to whom we refuse social fraternity? Can we hope that the people in power will believe us loyal when fidelity to the Confederacy atones for all manner of social iniquity and loyalty to the Union is the unpardonable sin? We may mean to discharge every obligation with fidelity, but while there is such rancor in our breasts people will not believe us. We must expect a great deal of heart burning at the close of a gigantic civil war But others have the right to expect that we shall seek to amend our tempers as well as our actions Men of business, whose daily avocations force them to mix and mingle with others, soon have their latent loyalty rubbed in to an active principle. We seldom find them among the exclusives But there is another class in every community largely composed of ladies and clergymen, who are not forced into actual contact, save as they choose These indulge in all this mawkish exclusiveness Many a lonesome parlor might be filled brimming full of merriment and happiness but for this silly prejudice Many a maid

"Remains a sad ungathered rose
On her ancestral tree,"

because of her self imposed vows of social abnegation

Is there an Irish Rebellion?

From the Philadelphia Press

Some years ago, when there was great anticipation of all that the Atlantic Cable would do, in the way of annihilating time and space, by flashing the very latest and most accurate news from the Old World to the New, we ventured to express a doubt on two heads First, that we had committed the great fault of being hamboozled into permitting both termini to be on British Territory, and next that, such being the case, the British Government, thus having absolute control of the Cable, very probably would take care, if they thought circumstances required it, that only such news as they wholly approved of should be sent over the line Looking back at the Cable news for the last three weeks, we see our prediction unhappily fulfilled Up to this moment we have been kept in profound ignorance on the great point—is Rebellion now raging in Ireland? The Cable tells us on that most vital subject, only what the British Government chooses It is clearly evident that very little Irish news, and that of a character favorable to British views and interest, has lately been allowed to pass over the Cable There is a floating report that all Ireland was to have been in armed rebellion by St Patrick's Day, that the shipping in the ports of London and Liverpool were to be simultaneously set fire to on that day, and that there were also to be Fenian risings in Manchester, Glasgow and other great British towns with large Irish populations but the Cable keeps us wholly uninformed on each and all of these points The question Is there a Rebellion, or has there been only a suppressed attempt at partial revolt in Ireland? remains veiled in extremest obscurity The British Government absolutely possesses the Cable, and, it is to be feared, suppresses when it does not falsify the news

Opium Among the Hawaiians.

As if rum and the vices which it engenders and fosters were not rapidly enough sweeping the remnant of Hawaiians from the face of the earth, it is a sad fact that the practice of smoking opium, introduced by the Chinese coolies, has become prevalent among the native Hawaiians, and is fearfully on the increase All who have watched the effects of the habitual use of this poisonous narcotic on the human system, agree that when it once gets a firm hold upon its victim a cure is almost hopeless Its introduction among the people is quite as much a misfortune as would be the taking off the tabu on the sale of spirits

We heard of a distressing instance the other day of a poor native on whom the insidious habit of smoking opium had grown until it became necessary to his existence

Becoming himself sensible of the destruction of body and soul toward which he was hastening, he made an effort to break off the habit, and taking a small supply of the drug with him to "taper off on," removed to Waikiki, away from the town, with the delusive idea that thus he could cure himself But when his supply was exhausted, the nervous prostration and the craving for the wonted stimulus were such that he was obliged to come to town again for more Again providing himself with a small supply, he made another effort for freedom, this time removing to Coco Head, further still from the tempter But he became so weak from the reaction on his nervous system that his friends were obliged to bring him to town again, or he would have soon died from the want of opium And he will inevitably die with the use of it This is only one instance brought to light out of many that doubtless occur, but which are never heard of

Last Sunday the police caught two natives in the act of smoking opium in the house of one of the coolies whom they had for some time suspected, and on Monday succeeded in getting a conviction before the police court. The coolie, who was a most wretched, cadaverous and helpless specimen of the victims of opium, was fined $100, with $3 37 costs, which, as he had no means to pay, he will work out in the chain gang—equal to four hundred and thirteen and a half days hard labor at twenty five cents a day — Honolulu Commercial, Jan 19

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

NEW YORK, March 22.

The Times says. Private advices represent that the coal miners in Schuylkill county, Pennsylvania, are committing most serious outrages. The ruffians are mainly Irishmen and known as "Molly Maguires." They are banded together in a secret organization for the purpose of controlling the mines and they commit murder and robbery. It is impossible to punish them, as when arrested and tried the juries are packed with confederates and they escape.

On Friday last, Mr. Littlehale, a superintendent, was murdered, with the hope of securing money he was supposed to have, but he had but very little with him at the time.

Threats are made against the superintendents and all live momentarily in fear of violence

A Charleston (S. C.) special says a mass meeting, irrespective of color, was held there last evening. There were only about fifty white people present. Judge Moore, a white man, presided, and a negro acted as Secretary. The meeting was decidedly Radical. Resolutions claiming the suffrage and the right to hold office for colored men and calling for a revision of the State code and a reorganization of the court were adopted.

The Times' special says: Gen. Rosecrans two weeks ago sent in his resignation. Gen. Grant endorsed his recommendation of acceptance, but before action was taken a letter was received from Bishop Rosecrans, the brother of the General, asking a suspension of action. The New York Congressional delegation of the House have asked that in case the resignation is accepted, Gen. Sickles be appointed a Brigadier General in the regular army.

There is no truth of any influential persons being brought to bear upon the President for the removal of Collector Smythe The President has no official information of any dereliction of duty on the part of that gentleman.

It is believed Congress can adjourn on Monday or Tuesday next.

The Herald's special says: The impression gains ground here that the example of Gen. Hampton and others in Columbia with regard to the freedmen will be very generally followed in the Southern States and that much good will grow out of this policy to both races.

—A lodge of Good Templars has been organized at Corry.

—The production of oil on Church Run is now about 240 barrels per day.

—The Rev. W. Howell Taylor will hold religious services at Tidioute on Sunday.

—The number of deaths by cholera in the country last summer is estimated at 12,085.

—A citizen of Corry was very severely burned by an explosion while pouring crude oil upon a kitchen fire.

—William H. Harris, formerly of Petroleum Centre, has been appointed Deputy Sheriff of Erie county.

—The Philadelphia lawyers protest against the passage of a bill permitting parties to testify in their own suits.

—Gov. Geary has vetoed the bill commonly known as the "Forty Million bill" of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

—A meeting of the officers of Washington Lodge I. O. G. T, will be held at the room of the Literary Association this evening.

—The boiler explosion on Bull Run on Thursday, was at the well owned by Frank O'Harra, on the Skinner Farm. No serious damage was done.

—Rev. J. N. Webb, pastor of the Baptist Church, will deliver a temperance discourse on Sunday evening, at the brick church, corner of Main and Perry streets.

—Mr. Chase has read in place a bill to erect an independent school district from a part of Concord township, Erie county, and Sparta township in the county of Crawford.

—The Common Council of Buffalo have appropriated $10,000 towards the erection of a monument to the soldiers and sailors of Erie county who were killed during the war.

—The Common Council of Erie have passed an ordinance prohibiting men and boys from obstructing the sidewalks. In other words it protects the community against corner loafers.

—A burglary was perpetrated at the office of the Empire Line, opposite the passenger depot, on Thursday night. The safe was opened with a false key, and $21 abstracted—not a very extensive haul.

—A heavy fall of snow occurred on Thursday night, covering the earth to the depth of several inches. The moderate temperature caused a very rapid evaporation, which seems to indicate a juvenile freshet.

—An act to regulate the carriage of baggage by railroads has been passed by the Senate. It allows each passenger one hundred pounds of baggage, not over three hundred dollars in value, for which the company shall be responsible if said baggage is placed in the baggage car, but the company is not liable for any article taken into the car in which the passenger is riding.

—A change in the General Fee bill is about to be made. Under the old law, county officers whose income was over $1,500 were required to pay into the State Treasury fifty per cent. of the surplus. The present bill, as it passed the House, requires such officers to pay to the State Treasurer fifty per cent. on all surplus over $2,000, after deducting clerk hire and office rent.

—A gentleman who has recently returned from the gold region of Madoc, C. W., informs us that here is some excitement in that vicinity, but owing to the cold weather very little work was being done in the mines. The Richardson mine, about three miles from Madoc, has produced some very rich ore. Gold dust has been washed from dirt taken from Cook's Creek at the rate of forty cents to the pan. Madoc, the principal town in that region, has a population of about five hundred. It is twenty-three miles north of Belleville and about sixty miles northwest of Kingston.

Exit Tammany.

The telegraph has announced the sale of Tammany Hall to Charles A. Dana & Co., the projectors of the new radical newspaper, for the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The Tammany Society reserves the right to take up the corner-stone of the building, and to use for a period of one year the main room in which the General Committee is to meet. It has also been agreed by the purchasers that no political meeting is to be held in the building for one year from May 1st next, except by the consent of the Tammany Society.

The "Old Wigwam" was built in 1811 by the Tammany Society, an organization which dates from May, 1789. For more than twenty years the society was without a local habitation, but in 1791 it possessed a museum, which finally fell into the hands of Scudder, and afterwards became a part of the American Museum. The corner-stone of the hall was laid in May, 1811, by Clarkson Crolius, and an oration was delivered by Alpheus Sherman. In 1835 the building was altered and improved, and many changes have since been made. Of late years it has been used as a hotel, the "Sachems" reserving their assembly room for public and private meetings.

The history of Tammany Hall, not yet written, will be the record of a curious system of political management. The wire-pulling of the Sachems had an immense effect in its day, but that day long since passed by, and the power of Tammany is now but a tradition.

Duty of Township Auditors.—It may not be generally known that a general law of the Legislature, approved April 11, 1866, requires the bounty accounts of every district to be carefully audited by the Township Auditors, and "prepare a condensed statement of the condition of these finances, and publish the same, at the cost of the district for three successive weeks, in two papers." It not only requires this duty to be performed by the Township Auditors, but imposes a penalty of fifty dollars upon each Auditor who refuses to comply, one-half of which goes to the prosecutor, and the other half to the school fund of the district. It provides, also, that the Auditors shall notify the School Directors or other parties having the disbursement of the bounty funds, to appear before them at such a time as the Auditors shall fix, for the purpose of enabling the Auditors to close up the bounty accounts of the township for the fiscal year.

Senator Lowry made a lengthy speech on Tuesday in denunciation of the bill authorizing the people of Philadelphia to decide, by a vote, whether the Sunday cars shall run, the bill having already passed the House. Mr. Lowry characterized the bill as a violation of the Sabbath. "It was offered to gratify an ungodly multitude of Philadelphia, and was desired only by those who loved their beer better than their Bibles, and kept fast horses and women. If cars were allowed to run they would be filled with shoulder-hitters and loose characters, and cars would take them all to hell. This infernal entering wedge of sin was favored by no one with any religious feeling, and by no ministers except a few slip-shod consciences and badly located churches. These men were not such as stood with their backs to Voltaire and their eyes to the Star of Bethlehem."

Great Reduction.—Isaiah Archer & Co. have reduced their prices of butter, cheese, eggs, tea, &c. Just received, twenty-five barrels of fresh eggs, at twenty-five cents per dozen.

Internal Revenue.

Mr. W. M. Henderson, Assistant Assessor for Internal Revenue, is paying his official compliments to the general public in the form of printed notifications through the post office. All parties receiving them are required to make out a return, according to the forms presented, and deliver them to the Assessor within ten days, or an addition of fifty per cent will be made to the proper tax.

Under the former Revenue Law, assessors were required to take their annual list of incomes and licenses on the first of May; the time is now changed to March. Some important reductions and abolitions have been made in the present system. Last year incomes of $600 up to $5,000 were assessed five per cent., and incomes in excess of $5,000 ten per cent. Now $1,000 is the amount exempted, a clear saving of $20 to all persons coming within its provisions, and there is also a deduction of five per cent., that being the uniform per cent. in all cases. There is another important modification of the law. It required a return of the profits upon real estate bought and sold within the year, to be included in the amount of the income. But the new law extends the liability to return upon all profits on land in 1864, 1865, 1866, and sold in 1866. Millions of dollars were lost to the Government by not enacting a similar law a year or two since.—The provisions in relation to deductions from fires, bad debts, &c., are retained in the new law. An abatement for house rent by a tenant and for necessary repairs by a house owner may still be claimed.

Letter from Erie—Court Business.

Erie, Pa., March 21, 1867.

Editors Morning Herald:

Business has again found us for the time being, in the noted and growing city of Erie. The long delay in paving its principal streets, we learn, is soon to be remedied by use of the Nicholson pavement, and the work is to be immediately commenced. We notice a number of new and beautiful residences in different parts of the city, ornamental to the town and creditable alike to the good taste of the architects and the owners. The Noble Block, and other prominent buildings, evidence likewise their inspiration, from the smiles of Dame Fortune in the more flourishing days of the land of oil.

A term of the Court of Common Pleas for the trial of civil causes, is now in session here, His Honor, Judge Vincent, presiding. The array of counsel and large attendance of parties and witnesses are indicative of the press of business, which thus far have absorbed the time and engrossed the attention of many suitors and of the Court. The close discrimination of the learned Judge, upon both the law and the evidence brought before him, and the dignity and impartiality of his administration, has already gained for him the confidence of both the bar and parties; proving that his election by the people was not a mistake.

Among the important cases already tried was one brought by a blind man named Bacon (whose young daughter so well known, sells books, &c. on the cars), against one Jones, for forcible ejectment of him, his family and household goods, in the street as a trespasser, on the 18th of May, 1866. The evidence showed that the blind man rented the premises as an under tenant up to the 1st of April, 1866, of one Fenno, a tenant of Jones' and from that time, he claimed to be an under tenant of one Blanchard and that Blanchard had a lease from Jones for a year from the 1st of April, 1866. This fact was disputed by Jones, but a receipt was shown that he had paid rent for the premises in full for the month of April, 1866, to Blanchard. This point seemed to decide the case in favor of the plaintiff. The ingenuity of Mr. Walker, the venerable and able counsel, was unequal to the task of a successful defense against the facts, the law and DeCamp. The case was eloquently portrayed to the jury by Mr. DeCamp in behalf of the plaintiff, of the wrongs and outrages committed by the defendant upon the plaintiff, and he a blind man, and a verdict was rendered of $200 damages for the plaintiff against the defendant, besides costs. The next case of importance was an action of slander by Chloe Edmonds against Abner Lilly. The case as proved, was one of gross slander and very sharply contested and summed up by J. H. Walker, Esq., for the defense, and C. O. Bowman, Esq., of Corry, for the plaintiff. After an able charge by the Judge, the jury retired to their room and subsequently returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $975. Several other cases of importance are still undisposed of, some of which sprouted in oil and oil lands, and if they develop especial interest, may be heard from hereafter. S. N. H.

Murder in Schuylkill County.—A few days ago Mr. William Littlehales, Superintendent of the Glen Carbon Coal Company, was murdered at a lonely portion of the road near his residence at the colliery, Glen Carbon, Schuylkill county. He was waylaid by assassins, while driving from Pottsville in a sulky, and shot.—One ball pierced his breast and another his head. He fell into the road from his sulky, and his body was rifled by the murderers. The object was evidently plunder, as it was supposed that he had a large sum of money with him to pay the men at the colliery. He had, however, left the money at Pottsville, to be sent out on the following day.

Mr. Littlehales was about 40 years of age, and was well known in the locality as a quiet, peaceable man, and not likely to make enemies. The murder was probably committed by some of the same band of outlaws who assassinated Mr. Dunne, near Pottsville, about a year ago.

Magazines.—We are indebted to B. N. Hurd & Co. of the Post Office News Depot, for several of the April magazines.

Godey's Lady's Book has several fine embellishments, including the fashion plates. A new story is commenced by Marion Harland, entitled "For Better or Worse," which is to run through several numbers. Due attention is paid to the fashion, art and housekeeping departments, and every novelty is recorded.

Fresh and fragrant as April blossoms is Demorest's Magazine. The present number is filled with spicy stories; information and illustrations incomparable for the season of Spring. It also contains a mammoth plate for dress makers, milliners, etc., a salon embellisse much needed. That it is the article desired and something more, the name of Demorest is a sure guarantee.

Frank Leslie's Lady's Magazine and Gazette of Fashion, for April, opens with a mammoth fashion plate, containing 35 figures, and has besides several pages of illustrations of the same character. The literary contents are, as usual, very attractive. There are a number of serial stories, and sketches complete in this number. For sale by Hurd & Co.

The United States Seven-Thirty notes were reduced during the whole year of 1866 about one hundred and twenty-six millions, leaving $676,856,000 outstanding at the beginning of this year. On the 1st instant this had been reduced to $632,708,050. The conversion at the rate of February (thirty one millions per month) would take over twenty months. When these notes are exchanged for Five-Twenties (as nearly the whole of them undoubtedly will be,) the annual coin interest will be carried up to over $130,000,000.

March.

How like life, oh! March, art thou,
With the sunlight on thy brow,
And the spring's sweet glow;
With thy stormy days of gloom,
And thy breathe in bloom,
O'er which falls the snow;
With thy wintry days that kill
Swelling blossoms, and that chill
Crocuses' first smile.
With thy sky, soft and serene,
And thy meadows tinged with green,
And cold rains the while;
With thy clouds and wi h thy sun,
With thy mornings, bright begun,
Changing soon to gloom,—
How like th e thu life of man,
With its ever-varying span—
Light with shadows strewn.
And, as after th e, fair May
Will chase all thy storms away
And sweet blossoms give,
And bright Je e, in splendor wound
And her brea t with glory crowned,
After thee will live,
So when life is past we know
Christ His fold will open throw
And will take us in,—
There forevermore to rest
With the once that He has blest
And to dwell wi h him.
Then, oh! March! haste on thy way,—
And thou, too, life's fitful day—
And let light be given.
It will come with summer's breath;
It will come with dews of death,
And we shall rest in Heaven.

Oil News.

—Three new wells on the Benninghoff Farm, above the Benninghoff Oil Company's office, have been abandoned.

—A new well was struck last Wednesday on lease No. 22, of the Bennehoff Run Petroleum Company's property, on Bennehoff Run. It is known as well No. 2. The working interest is controlled by Messrs. Clark and Frothingham. Several operators who own wells going down propose to suspend work on them as soon as they reach the third sand rock until the price of oil goes up to $3 00 per barrel.

—On the 14th of February last the number of wells which were going down on Oil Creek and its tributaries was 90. Since that time 45 wells have been struck or abandoned and about ten new wells have been started. This will leave 55 wells now going down, which is about 100 less than were going down at this time last year.

—An iron tank of 22,000 barrels capacity is to be erected immediately on Boyd Farm by L. Haldeman & Son.

—An iron tank of 5,000 barrels capacity is to be put near the Monroe street crossing by L. W. Brown and M. N. Allen.

—A new well was struck a few days since on the Montreal Petroleum Company's tract, on Cow Run. It is called the Donahue well, and is reported to be producing fifty barrels of oil per day.

—The well which was struck a few weeks since at Pithole, and which was reported to be a 350 barrel well, is not producing more than sixty barrels of oil per day.

—The Equator well, on the Equator Lease, of the Benninghoff Farm, has been abandoned. In January last this well was producing sixty barrels of oil per day.

—The well No 4, on Lease No. 50, of the Stevenson Farm, has been abandoned. This well was tested for about three weeks, and during that time, but little oil was found.

—Since January 1st, 521,447 gallons, or 13,331 barrels of petroleum have been exported to Australia.

Good Templars' Convention.

Salisbury, Indiana County, Pa., March 20, 1867.

Editors Morning Herald:

The members of the Order of Good Templars for the counties of Westmoreland, Armstrong, Alleghany and Indiana, assembled in Convention in the Hall of the Order here yesterday, to the number of several hundred, and a session of great interest was held. Rev. Thos. McCleary, of Blairsville, was elected President and John W. Robinson Secretary of the Convention. The arrangement and decorations of the Hall reflect much credit on the members of the Order here. The Lodge in this town has about two hundred members, and its influence for good is very great. The result of Good Templarism here is seen and felt, and by special act of the Legislature no licenses are granted here for the sale of intoxicating liquor, and the prosperity, peace and good order prevalent, shows that Prohibition is indeed a public blessing.

The Convention was addressed yesterday by Rev. Jas. A. Davidson, of Erie, who gave us a cheering account of the progress of the good cause in your city and county, and of the prospects of the reform throughout the nation at large.

Public meetings are to be held this afternoon and evening in the churches of the town, and arrangements have been made for meetings for the organization of many new Lodges in this part of the State. The cause has a firm hold on the hearts and minds of men of all parties and we anticipate great good to result.

Were it not for the influence of the Lodge in this town we would now be as notorious for intemperance as we are for the opposite of this vice, and it is apparent to all that no better instrumentality for reformation of manners was ever asked than that of the Good Templar Society. Many who at first regarded the movement with indifference and coldness are now among our most efficient and zealous members, being convinced by the fruits and efforts of the society that it would be sinful to stand aloof from so good a cause. From what we have heard of your action at Titusville, I send you these few lines, hoping they may be of interest to you and your readers. Truly yours, T.

Rand's Pneumatic Gaslight.—Mr. A. C. Rand, the well known refiner, has perfected and obtained a patent upon a very important invention under the above title. A model of the apparatus was exhibited at the Pendleton House last evening and elicited unqualified approbation. It consists of a cylindrical cistern partially filled with water, in the centre of which is a smaller cylinder containing a quantity of benzine. The base of this connects with a rubber hose extending to the outside of the cistern, where an air pump is operated, forcing the air into the cylinder containing the benzine. The cylinder is covered with a hood which operates as a gasometer. A corresponding hose from the top of the gasometer conveys the gas to the burner.—The light is exceedingly pure and brilliant, and more economical than any previously invented. Experiments have fully demonstrated its success and the inventor is likely to realize very largely from its introduction.

Barnsdall's Crude Oil Lamp.—Mr Joseph Barnsdall, the owner of the new crude oil lamp described in the Herald yesterday, offers to light up the streets of Titusville at one-half the cost to the city that can be afforded by any Gas Company in the country. Mr. Barnsdall has already ordered a dozen street lamps for this purpose. As the expense of erecting posts will be comparatively light, we presume the Council will make the experiment. Specimen lamps can be seen at Southwick's shoe store.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

Office of the Morning Herald, Titusville, March 22, 1867.

The Petroleum market is active and firm and without any decided change from our previous quotations. There is a slight feeling of uncertainty observable among the buyers, but as yet it has led to no decided action. There is at present but a comparatively small amount of oil on the hands of the producers, and consequently they are holding firm. The demand to-day was fair, mostly for the New York market. On Pioneer Run an offer was made for 1,000 barrels of 48 gr. oil at $1 50 at the wells. The sales reported to-day are: 200 barrels on Church Run, for the New York market, at $1 50 delivered on the platform at Titusville; 200 barrels on the McElhenny Farm, from the Champion lease, for the Cleveland market, 47 gr., at $1 50 at the wells; 1,000 barrels on the Stevenson Farm, for the New York market, 47 gr., at $1 50 at the wells; 100 barrels on Bull Run, for the New York market, 47 gr., at $1 35 at the wells; 2 000 barrels at Shaffer, for the New York market, 47 gr., at $1 80 delivered on the cars; 500 barrels on the Stevenson Farm, for the Pittsburgh market, heavy gravity, at $1 65 at the wells; two car loads on Pioneer Run, from the Champion lease, for the Cleveland market, 47 gr., $1 50 at the wells; 500 barrels on Bull Run, for the Cleveland market, 47 gr., at $1 25 at the wells; one car load at Titusville for the Cleveland market, 47 gr., at $2 00 delivered on the cars.

The amount and destination of Petroleum reported purchased to-day between Titusville and the Hyde & Egbert Farm, were as follows:

To New York bbls	2300
To Cleveland	870
To Pittsburgh	560
To other points
Total	4730

The shipments over the Oil Creek Railroad from Shafer March 20, 21 and 22, and from Miller, Titusville and Pioneer, March 22, were as follows:

To New York bbls	2830
To Cleveland bbls	1070
To other points bbls	751
Total bbls	4151

The following are our quotations to day:

Snow's Patent Liquid Packing Pump for Oil Wells.—This celebrated "Pump" having been most successfully and generally used in the oil regions of Pennsylvania, and bearing a fame unsurpassed for its durability and wear, and the general good results of its application, doing away with leather and all other flexible packing, thereby avoiding the perplexities of a leather packing valve, and having all the advantages of other pumps and valves in bringing and keeping up the production of oil, I take pleasure in announcing to the public that I am now prepared to furnish any demand for these Pumps at the shortest notice. Below I give a few of the numerous testimonials I have received in their favor, and also "by permission," refer for information as to their durability, and general good results to H. W. Fausett, Superintendent of Philadelphia Petroleum Company, using them in every pumping well belonging to the Company; W. J. Rancis, Superintendent of lease 23, Bennehoff Run; J. P. Fowler, Superintendent of New York & Chicago Petroleum Company; C. L. I. Winant, Church Run; Wm. Spence, Bennehoff Run; Mr J. Hoope, Superintendent of Bennehoff Run Petroleum Company; E. L. Pitcher, Superintendent of National Oil Company; C. H. Page, Superintendent Ocean Oil Company.

TESTIMONIALS

West Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 21, 1866.

William B. Snow, Esq.—Dear Sir: In answer to your request for my experience with your pump, I cheerfully state that I have used one of them for about two months and have found them entirely reliable, having performed all the requirements that was claimed for them.

The entire absence of leather packing and consequent lessening of friction in the working barrels makes the strain on the sucker rods much less, which is a great consideration in pumping deep wells, and I cheerfully recommend them to those having such.

Yours, respectfully, Edwin L. Pitcher, Superintendent National Oil Company.

Bennehoff Run, Nov. 21, 1866.

W. B. Snow—Dear Sir: In reply to yours, asking for a "correct" statement as to the use of your pump on this farm, I cheerfully certify that on the 15th of August last I applied one of your pumps to well '26, belonging to the Bennehoff Run Petroleum Company, which had been pumping four weeks with a brass working barrel and "casing," about forty barrels a day. On the application of the "Snow Pump" the well increased to over one hundred barrels per day, and has been pumping at that rate ever since without ever having drawn the sucker rods to the date.

I also certify that I have three of your pumps in my own wells, viz: Nos. 31, "34" and 2, which have worked to

General Superintendent, Titusville, Pennsylvania

OFFICE AT THE RED PLANING MILL.

Heretofore we have in our circulars, alluded to a series of experiments being made with Nitro Glycerine and other explosives. We now announce that we have succeeded, even beyond our most sanguine expectations as regards the safety attending also the unprecedented force and power manifested by a skillful combination whereby the size of the Torpedo is increased and the force many times multiplied and are now prepared to operate on wells with any of the above named explosives—either with our improved combination—our old Combination Torpedo which has a record and ability too well known to need mention here.

8 lb Nitro Glycerine equal to 64 lbs. powder	$150
16 lb " 128 lbs. powder	200
Combination equal to 100 lbs powder	150
Improved combination eq to 150 lbs. powder	200
Double combination, equal to 300 to 1800 lbs. powder	$200 to 500

CAUTION—The public is cautioned against employing any but the regularly authorized agents of this Company, since their patent, according to the construction of the Commissioner of Patents for the United States covers the use of the Torpedo and all other explosive materials for oil wells and the use of such materials by other parties is a direct infringement of their rights and we shall hold land or working interests to a strict accountability for such infringements.

TARR FARM, June 12, 1866.

Col E A L ROBERTS—DEAR SIR Yours of the 11th instant, asking for information as to the results from the explosion of the Roberts' Torpedo in various wells on this farm is at hand, and we take great pleasure in making the following statement, based upon our own observation and upon information obtained from various persons owning interests in the wells mentioned below

First. The Tarr Homestead Company have had five torpedoes exploded in the Delury and Sangsury wells Of these two wells one had been flowing and the other pumping nearly 120 barrels, united together, but they had decreased until both were yielding but about 8 barrels per day After the explosion of the Torpedo both commenced to flow and produced about 100 barrels per day at which rate they still continue
